

MELJAC enhances the edges of its lighting controls plates

Brass, Bronze Médaille Clair finish
Machined and engraved edges

MELJAC, a leading manufacturer of luxury electrical hardware, is offering a new selection of borders for its brass models. The plates now appear against the wall like framed paintings and constitute an integral part of your interior decoration.

MELJAC's designs, handmade in France following age-old traditions, are the product of its renowned expertise and the most advanced technological tools.

A sophisticated final touch

The variety of engraving and machining techniques used by the professionals at MELJAC offers a multitude of options for bespoke switches and power outlets. The product's quality is perceptible to the touch thanks to the embossed design of the edges, made possible by this precision craftsmanship.

This option is available for all brass products in a variety of thicknesses. Some patterns may be adorned with colored resin or be silkscreen printed, based on the client's preferences.
