

MELJAC personalises its buttons with engravings

MELJAC, the French manufacturer of luxury electrical fittings, offers the option of personalising its switches by adding engravings to the push buttons. This solution retains the sleek design and finish of the brass plate. Clients can combine several functions (lighting, blinds, audio, home automation, etc.) on a single plate, while easily identifying the function of each control.

The quality of MELJAC's creations, based on highly specific expertise, has established the brand's reputation worldwide.

MELJAC's solid brass models, like the Damier collection and the casings for thermostats, alarm panels, etc., can include push buttons with the same finish as the plate (30 shades to choose from). The buttons can be raised or flush and are available in various shapes: square, round, triangular, rectangular, oblong, etc.

These geometrical shapes fit perfectly into contemporary interiors and also offer a touch of modernity in more traditional decors.

Pictograms, words, symbols, etc. can be engraved on buttons using the same finish as the plate or with a coloured resin for contrast.
