MARK KREBS

STITCH COLLECTION

CHALK

PEBBLE

TECHNIQ	UE
---------	----

This rug is a series of hand woven wool rug strips, roughly the width of the human body. After weaving, the strips are placed side by side and hand stitched together to make a full size area rug. The strip lengths are slightly varied, which gives the weavers room for error when weaving and adds a unique edge detail to the rug. The two tone neutral stripe pattern is also varied, which brings more understated complexity to this otherwise subtle design.

-----------	--

This rug is hand woven of machine spun bouclé yarns of 100% New Zealand wool.

The collection hand woven on a traditional wooden loom, making it extremely soft to the touch. This is the thickest hand woven rug in the Mark Krebs collection.

TILE COLLECTION

CH

The tile collection is a hand woven pile rug. Featuring a 'double back' loom contstruction which makes the rug incredibly durable and flexible. In simple terms, this rug will last a very long time.

After weaving, the tile pattern is hand carved by the weavers with sheers (think of a much larger version of clippers at a hairdresser). The tile hights alternate slightly which creates subtle shadows that shift as the light changes throughout your day.
