
Archiproducts Design Awards 2023: the competition celebrating design excellence worldwide.

07/08/2023 -The Archiproducts Design Awards honor the State of the Art in Design. The great international event that enhances that special synergy between brands and designers.

"A not-to-be-missed global design competition and a unique opportunity to meet an international, passionate, and extraordinarily profiled community", the Creative Director of Archiproducts, Enzo Maiorano, stated.

Each brand can nominate up to 5 products, from furniture to lighting, contract, and building, and also apply for the "Sustainability" Award dedicated to eco-innovative products.

Now in its eighth edition, the Archiproducts Design Awards bring together new jury members, additional recognitions for designers and the Sustainability Award.

The most influent architects, designers, creative directors, and editors worldwide will evaluate the nominated products and choose the winners of this edition. Hannes Peer, Kelly Wearstler, Nina Yashar, Pietro Terzini, Tim Fu, Manuel Aires Mateus, Giovanna Castiglioni, Satoshi Kurosaki are just some of the jurors who will interpret the products in terms of their aesthetics and content.

"Occasions like these Awards help us understand where we are, the speed at which we are moving, and the direction we are taking - to correct our course if necessary", Giorgio Donà said.

A second prestigious jury of experts in sustainable design will award the products that stands out for circular and eco-design. Formafantasma, Tao Zhang, Rossana Orlandi and Nicoletta Brugnoli, PROWL Studio, Kasper Guldager, Shujan Bertrand, Retrouvius and Giulio Bonazzi will select those brands committed to minimizing pollutant emissions and the environmental impacts of their products by using recyclable materials.

This is their mission: to inspire and enable to embrace sustainability and reuse as a design preference and lifestyle choice, because “patina, scars and wrinkles communicate the texture of time and use. Recycled materials have a tactile personality and an emotional value that make them unique and fundamental”, Adam Hills e Maria Speake, founders of Retrouvius, stated.

Every year, Archiproducts celebrate all winning brands and designers of the winning products.

The Brand Award is made by the Spanish studio MUT Design with De Castelli metal.

A design inspired by the “Möbius strip”: a three-dimensional shape that celebrates the encounter of ideas, tools, and craftsmanship.

Collaboration with Salvatori has also been confirmed for the Designer Award: the marble monolith by Michael Anastassiades, inspired by the ADA logo.

The Sustainability Award is dedicated to products that aim to create a sustainable impact in the world of Design. A sculpture designed by the AMDL CIRCLE studio, headed by Michele De Lucchi, and produced by Riva 1920 in Lebanese cedar.

The deadline to apply for the 2023 edition of the Archiproducts Design Awards is on September 8th. Submit your products and become a winner!

In October, the long list will be announced for the final stage of the awards.

The winners will be declared in November 2023.
