Sevil Peach, Zhongshuge Bookstores, X+Living, and Space Encounters among those honoured with the Frame Honorary Awards

AMSTERDAM, 22 FEBRUARY 2018 - On Wednesday 21 February 2018 the winners of the Frame Awards 2018 were announced. Following a live judging earlier that day which allowed the final nominees for each award to present their work through a video and additional commentary, the international jury selected the best interiors of 2016/2017.

Ramdane Touhami, Cheungvogl Architects, KAAN Architecten and ACDF Architecture are among the winners of the first ever Frame Awards. 28 winners were recognized from across the Spatial, Executional and Societal categories on Wednesday 21 February in the Westergasfabriek in Amsterdam. Four additional winners received the Honorary Frame Awards, including Lifetime Achievement Award winner Sevil Peach, Designer of the Year X+Living, Emerging Designer of the Year Space Encounters, and Client of the Year Zhongshuge Bookstores.

The work was judged not just by other designers, but by leaders from all industry stakeholders: retail brands, hospitality providers, cultural institutions, corporations and educators. The prestigious panel of international jury members included Jaime Hayon (Hayon Studio Founder), India Mahdavi (Founder and director of India Mahdavi Architecture and Design), Matteo Bressanin (Nespresso Global Retail Channel Manager), Frederique Keuning (Creative Director and Co-Founder of Spaces), Jo Nagasaka (Founder and director of Schemata Architects), Anja Dirks (President European Council of Interior Architects) and Ben van Berkel (UNStudio Founder). In addition, more than 18.000 votes were cast by Frame's worldwide audience of interior design and architecture fans, who selected the winners of the People's Choice in each award category.

The jury was impressed by the high quality of the work submitted, which included some of the most innovative spaces in the world. 'Visitors literally step into the beloved subject matter of the artist,' says Uwe R. Brückner (Atelier Brückner Founder and Creative Director) of Studio OTW's Emanuel de Witte: Master of Light in Alkmaar. 'Immediately immersive,' adds Mike Hughes (Universal Everything Creative Director). As for the Set Design of the Year category, the judges agreed winner Es Devlin created 'a contemporary vision with layers of narrative that combine to create a holistic, seamless performance' with their project Ugly Lies the Bone.

The celebrations and prize-giving ceremony at the Frame Awards Show had Frame founder and director Robert Thiemann as the host of the evening. Over 250 international guests enjoyed the spectacular culmination of the 2018 Frame Awards with the crème de la crème of the interior design and architecture world in attendance.

The Frame Awards marks a new era for Frame, as the company expands beyond print publication and forges a new path in modern media and events with an innovative production that adds a new physical dimension to the brand.

ABOUT FRAME
Established in 1997, Frame is the world's leading media brand for interior design professionals. With 20 years of experience in the industry, Frame has today become a media brand that stimulates interior designers and architects to create spatial excellence. frameweb.com

ABOUT THE FRAME AWARDS
Building on the legacy of The Great Indoors Awards, the Frame Awards is the first and only global interior-design awards with a truly holistic approach. The Awards identify and honour the world's best interior projects, but also the people behind them. The work is judged by all industry stakeholders: retail brands, hospitality providers, cultural institutions, and educators. In total 30 awards are divided under Spatial, Executional, and Societal Awards covering the entire spectrum of non-residential interiors, while the Honorary Awards celebrate the people behind them. frameawards.com
